THE TICKET SPECULATORS. TICKETS BOUGHT FROM SPECULATORS CANNOT BE REFUSED-APLEY GIVES BAIL TO KEEP

THE PEACE. The case of Charles Apley, who was charged with disorderly conduct, in making a noise and viole tly endeavoring to force his way into Booth's Theater on the evening of the 17th inst., thereby disturbing the au-dience, was resumed before Mayor Hall yesterday afteroon. Very few persons were present, interest in the se seeming to have almost died out. Counsel for Apley asked the discharge of his client, on the ground that the Mayor had not the power to act as a magistrate in the matter. The Mayor said he had the power under provi-tions of the Revised Statues of 1828, which had not been repealed. Counsel held that the Statutes of 1848 repealed provisions of the Statutes of 1818. The Mayor was of ther opinion, and denied the motion to discharge.

Mr. Magouigle, Business Manager of Booth's Theater, was cross-examined by counsel for Appley, and testified: I refused the ticket, because I was informed by a man whom I employed to watch the speculators, that Apley had bought his ticket from a speculator; witness then described Apley's disorderly conduct, and said he had him ejected and arrested by a policeman, and taken be Counsel for Apley made the point that as Justice Cox had disposed of the case, it could not be commenced de more before another magistrate. The Mayor said that no sworn complaint had been made before Justice Cox, and the complaint made before that Justice was not of the same nature as the complaint lodged with his Honor. Charles Apley sworn, testified—Was at Booth's Aug. 17; bought a ticket from a speculator on the sidewalk; was followed by a man who told Magonigle that the ticket was purchased in the street; Magonigle refused to admit me, and on asking him why, he said, this is no place to argue, and called an officer, who arrested me. The Mayor said that while Apley's conduct might be materal, it was unlawful, as the weight of the testimony showed that Apley had been guilty of disorderly conduct, leading to a breach of the peace.

Apley was then held in $300 bail to keep the peace for 2 months. It is expected that Apley will bring a suit against Magoigie for fulse imprisonment.

POLICE MATTERS-TRIALS, &c.

Commissioners Bosworth and Brennan yes terday listened to 53 complaints against policemen.

Grand Roundsman Meley charged Patrolman John O'Neill of the Twentieth Precinct with absence from post for 21 hours. The officer said there were two shanties on his post known as "Little Hell" and "Sevastopol," ochis post known as "Little Hell" and "Sevastopo," occupied by rough characters, and that on the night in question he heard cries for help proceeding from the neighborhood; that he went there, made a thorough search, and thus was caused his absence from the point where the roundsman had placed himself. Commissioner Bosworth thought the exense unsatisfactory, and reserved the matter to the Board. Michael McGaire charged Officer Dennis Cabill of the Fourth Precinct with taking from him 5s, under pretense of getting the complainant released at Court from a charge of intoxication. McGuire said that on the way to Court, the officer stopped with him in a liquor-store, while he (the complainant) treated Cabill and four others, had a $10 bill changed, and gave the officer $5. The officer denied the charge, and witnesses swore that the officer conducted his prisoner from the Station-House direct to the Court. The case was referred to the Board.

Grand Roundsman Wm. Griffin was charged by Patrolman Wm. Romaine of the Fourteenth Precinct with steeping on an apple-stand. The patrolman swore that the roundsman, when accused of sleeping, said: "I have a right to rest myself. I never broke a man, although I have a right to rest myself. I never broke a man, although I have lead on the roundsman for 16 months. I am not like Roundsmen Nelly and McGloin, who are looking for promotion. Perhaps I night catch you yet in a bad case, and I'll let up on you." Commissioner Rosworth wanted to know why affer all these fine promises the officer had complained of the roundsman, and received the reply. "Because he deserved it." The roundsman the was nerely sitting down while writing out his report. The fall Board will consider this case with the others referred. cupled by rough characters, and that on the night in

THE SEVENTH WARD HOMICIDE-CONCLUSION OF THE INQUEST.

Coroner Keenan and a jury yesterday concluded the investigation into the circumstances con-nected with the death of Hugh McCall, who died from a blow on the head with an ax, inflicted by Patrick Matthews, a fellow-tenant, at No. 222 Cherry-st., and from being beaten with a hammer by the wife of Matthews, during a quarrel on the 13th inst. Patrick McTierney, during a quarrel on the 13th inst. Patrick McTierney, age 11, testified that he saw McCail throw an apple at Mrs. Matthews, and afterward saw Patrick Matthews strike McCall on the head with an ax, which he afterward threw out of the window into the yard. Bridget Gannon partially corroborated this evidence; and then a verdict against Patrick Matthews was given by the Jury, who failed, however, to find Mrs. Matthews an accessory. Matthews, in his examination, said that on the day in question he was building a fire in his room, for his wife, who is in ill health, and while thus engaged he heard her quarreling with McCall, who was intoxicated in the hallway. McCall used very abusive language, finally struck Mrs. Matthews, and, following her into her room, struck her again. Witness interfered, when McCall threatened to kill him, and made a rush at him. Witness had the hatchet in his hand then, and struck McCall on the head, in self-defense.

The Coroner announced that he would hold the prisoner to ball its $2,000 to awaita trial, and in default thereof Matthews was committed to the Tombs.

RIVER PIRATES. During the past Summer months, complaint after complaint has been made at Police Heacquarters of a series of robberies committed by a gang of youthful thieves upon the North River. They have assailed, cor-sair fashion, other boys of genteel families who were rowing upon the river, piratically despoiled them of their treasures, purses, watches, and the like, and finally their treasures, purses, watches, and the like, and finally taking away the oars of the captured boat, have successfully made their escape. By a singularly skillful and well-excuted plan of giving warning of the presence of police, the boys have evaded capture. Within the past few weeks, however, the thieves have become bolder, and as a consequence of their recklessness during the peat few days, four of the gang have been captured and committed for trial. Yesterday two more were captured—Alonzo Provost and Christopher Rafferty were captured—Alonzo Provost and Christopher Rafferty—and brought before Justice Shandley, at the Jefferson Market Police Court. A charge of robbery was preferred against them by Robert Major, age 10, residing at No. 468 West Twenty-second-st., who said that they had taken from him a valuable watch and $2 in currency. Provost and Rafferty were committed in default of $1,000 bail each to answer at the General Sessions.

DESTRUCTION OF A BROOKLYN OIL FACTORY-

LOSS $22,000. At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the Phenix Rosin and Oil Distillery of William A. Wood, a frame building, corner of Richards and Delaware-ste., South Brooklyn, caught fire and was totally destroyed, together with the contents. The fire was caused by an escape of gas from an oil still, which was ignited by the fire from under the boiler. Andrew Doolly, the fireman, was severely burned about the face and hands white endeavoring to extinguish the flames. The tar factory of Mr. Richardson, on Delaware-st., also caught fire, but it was promptly extinguished. Mr. Wood's building was uninsured, and his loss will amount to $20,000. A number of imported pigeons worth $2,000, kept on the premises, were burned.

Bandojh, President of the Company, in care of Alex. Robinson, No. 67 Steubenst. Those letters were, however, returned with the st. Those letters were, however, returned with the statement that the cheeks were not good without incorsement. The detectives used a decay letter in order to secure the culprits, who were taken before Commissioner Jackson and were committed, Howe, in default of $10,000 ball, and Robinson, whom Howe declares himself innocent of any knowledge of the affair, he was held as an accomplice, and also as witness.

ARREST OF THIEVES-RECOVERY OF STOLEN

At a late hour on Thursday night Detectives Wooldridge, Farley, Radford and McCord at No. 47 Ridge-st., arrested John Wilson and his sister, Mary Ann, st., arrested John Wilson and his sister, Mary Ann, whom the officers say are well-known professional thieves. Concealed in a number of barrels and bags, in various rooms, the officers found a large quantity of slik dresses, velvet cloaks and mantilias, lace, woolen, and crape shawla, linen under-garments, and other articles of female wearing apparel—the proceeds, apparently, of a number of burglaries. There was also found a sole-leather trunk bearing the address in black letters, "G. H. S. Erocklyn, N. Y." The property and prisoners were taken to Poli e Headquarters. Any person who in ay have lost property of the kind described may call on Capt. Kelso, and examine the articles.

REGATTA OF THE SHREWSBURY YACHT CLUB. The fifth annual regatta of the Shrewsbury Yacht Club came off Thursday afternoon, at Fair Haven on the North Shrewsbury River. A large number were present to witness the race, and members of every yacht club in and around this city were among the invited guests. A general invitation was extended to yachts of the several clubs of New-York and New-Jersey to take part in the race. Four prizes were offered. First prize, $59; second, silver gobiet; third, set of silver spoons; part in the race. Four prizes were offered. First prize, $50; second, silver goblet; third, set of silver spoons; fourth, suit of colors.

Seven yachts were entered, viz.: Crazy Jane, Addie Taylor, Mollie, Cornella, Blanch Clifford, Nameless (formerly the Cook), and Barbe Bleue. Each boat was catrigged, and the rules were those of all yacht clubs. The judges were Messrs. S. J. Dellan, and W. H. Marphy; Referee, Mr. J. H. Brown. The distance to be sailed was 18 miles, and the course was from Fair Haven dock to and around a stake-boat off Long Point, thence around a stake-boat off Guien's Point stake-boat four times, to the home stretch at Fair Haven dock.

Everything being in readiness, word was given to start, and at precisely 2:22, the Crazy Jane was off, followed by the Addie Taylor three minutes and thirty seconds later, and then the Mollie Cornella, Blanche Clifford, Nameless (formerly the Cook), and Barbe Bleue in the order named. The Barbe Bleue was six minutes behind the Crazy Jane at starting. It will be seen by the course that considerable seamanship was required to round the stake-boats so often, and to do it successfully. In turning the stake-boat off Long Point the Mollie fouled with the Addie Taylor. The foul was claimed but not allowed, and on rounding the same boat on the second tack, the Crazy Jane passed from north to south instead out; otherwise she would have taken the third prize. The wind was what is termed a "soldier wind" by sailors. The yachts came in on the home tack in the oliving order and time:

Hours Min Maile Taylor. 4 88 Addie Taylor

Crasy Jane...... 56 Blasche Chiferi. 6 12

The Cornella failed to make her appearance at all. The Nameless received the first prize, making the distance in two hours and twenty-four minutes. The fourth prize was offered to the Addie Taylor, but her owners refused to receive it. Considerable discussion took place after the race in regard to the decision of the referee in the foul of the Neille and Taylor, but was finally settled satisfactorily. The members of the Club then invited their friends into Van Tines's Hotel, where refreshments were served.

MUTUAL VS. HAYMAKERS-AN EASY VICTORY FOR THE MUTUALS.

The second game of the season between the Mutual Club of this city and the Haymakers of Troy took place on the Union Grounds yesterday, in the presence of fully 4,000 people. The first game of the series was played in Troy in June, when the Mutuals went on their Eastern tour, and the result was a tie, 10 to 10, rain their Eastern tour, and the result was a tie, 10 to 10, rain stopping play. For that reason this match became the first of the season, and the second will be played in Troy. The Mutuals had out their full nine, and were in good form for play; but their opponents were minus the valuable services of their efficient captain and fine second and third base player, "Billy Dick," and as it happened to be Woolverton's bad day—taking Dick's place at second—that proved to be a very weak boint in the nine, and if the poor play at second dinot lose their game, it assisted materially. There was a delay occasioned by the difficulty in selecting an umpire, but finally the two captains agreed upon John Wildey, and he discharged the duties of the position to the entire satisfaction of both sides. The game opened very favorably for the Haymakers, for after disposing of the Mutanis for a single run, they punished Walters in lively-style for two carned runs and scored 5, thus starting off with a good lead. In the next innings neither side scored, the fisciling on both sides being very sharp. In the third innings the Mutuals were allowed to add a runs to their second on the fourth they scored 5 more without earning one, the Haymakers playing very loose, especially in the field. By sharp fielding and effective pitching of the Mutuals the Haymakers were obliged to content themselves with a single run in this inning, and as neither side scored in the fifth innings, the totals at the close of that inning stood at $0.6 in favor of the Mutuals.

In the sixth innings both nines muffed very much, and the Maymakers seed. stopping play. For that reason this match became the of the pitching is to be made, the figures show in favor of McMullin. The Haymakers earned four runs, the Mutuals three. The Mutuals had the first base given them 11 times by errors. The full score is appended, showing first-base hits, total put out, and times assisted by each player, also runs earned. The score of outs and runs is only now used in regular multin matches.

THROGG'S NECK.—The annual pic-nic of the First Presbyterian Curred was held in Section's Grove on Thersday. The day was beautiful, and the children as happy as birds. After singing by the school, and some humorous remarks by the pastor, the Rev. Robert parison, a bountful repeat was partaken of, after which fleechers, scholars, and guests entered with sect into the pleasures of the day, which were continued up to a late hour. This school is one of the most fourlishing in the town.

CENTREVILLE, N. Y.—A detachment of Irish soldiers that made its appearance here last week and pitched tents in the Projectory grounds, has gone again. A number of drummers accompanied the veterans, and screended the villagers before leaving.

Protectory grounds, has gone again. A number of drummers accompanied the veterans, and serenaded the villagers before leaving.

MOTT HAVEN.—Wm. Mansfield, John McVey and his mother. Margaret McVey, after attending a funeral yesterday, became grossly interiested and drove about Mott Haven in a wayon at a furious rate, endangering the lives of citizens, schreeching, yelling and otherwise conducting themselves in a disorderly namer. The were arrested and taken before Justice Fuller, who figod Mansfield $15, and on default of payment sent him to the County [all first 20 days. Margaret McVey was fined $50, which she paid. John McVey was fined $15, and was ordered to pay $15 also for a policeman's cost, which he tore to pieces while reasking efforts to arrest him. He was likewise required to pay $5 for having his child and horse taken care of during his temporary incarecration, amounting in all to $40, all of which he paid, and went home.

The great railroad on which these securities are based is making good The great railroad on which these securities are used from the metrop-progress. Of the 600 miles embraced in its entire length from the metrop-olis to the City of Oswego, including the Anbura branch, 150 miles are already completed, fully equipped and in profitable operation. Work is being vigorously pushed on other portions of the line; and it is the exn of the Company to have at least 100 miles more in operation be-pectation of the Company to have at least 100 miles more in operation be-fere the close of the present season.

The portion of this road now in operation, constituting its northern The portion of this road now in operation, constituting its northern section, extends from the city of Oswego to Sidney Plains, where it intersects the Albany and Susquehanna Railroad. Its local business is already large, and the Company has just concluded a contract with the Delaware and Hudson Canal Co. for transporting the coal of that large and wealthy corporation to the northern sections of the State. This will add so largely to the business and prefits of that section of the road that the Company feel confident that its not carnings, without the aid of through business, cannot be less than 7 per cent on its entire cost, which is 100 per cent in section of the largest on its honds. For it must be borne in mind that the cannot be less than 7 per cent on its emire cost, which is 100 per cent in excess of the interest on its bonds. For it must be borne in mind that the issue of these bonds is strictly limited to $20,000 per mile of finished road. They thus possess all the accurity of the bonds of our oldest and best roads. The road, when completed, will constitute one of the great trunk lines connecting the City of New-York with Canada and the West by shorter routes than any now existing; and, as its entire course is through fertile and populous districts, it cannot fail to prove one of the most impertant and best-paying roads in the Union.

BEHIND THESE BONDS IS A PAID-UP CAPITAL OF NEARLY

$7,000,000, which affords ample guaranty of the financial strength

The popularity of these bonds, as a perfectly and security, bearing the highest rate of interest antihorized by the haws of New-York, payable in Gold Coin, free of Government tax, has kept the supply searly exhausted; but the recent and early future completion of additional sections will for a time furnish a liberal supply, to which we respectfully invite the attention of investors, in the confident belief that no better security can be found on
